Seminar by IBM

As a part of SkillsBuild Community, IBM has organised a seminar on the campus to equip the students with the latest technology. The seminar was organised on 9 September for the students Diploma in Computer Science Engineering and B Voc – Web Development courses. They explained the students how to access software and hand-on resources to learn about data science, artificial intelligence, cybersecurity and more. The students attended the session with great interest and had shown the curiosity to learn more.
